SPECIFICATIONS

Knots, burrs, figuring and varying grain patterns in the same piece are all natural and inherent factors to solid timber and should be expected. This produces a unique product to enhance your room. Cracking may appear in tiles. This is normal and inherent. All sizes are approximate and a tolerance of up to 5mm should be allowed for machining. Limestone is a natural material and as such may vary in shade slightly to pictures shown. Limestone/marble may also contain natural fossils, fissures, and darker graining. We reserve the right to make changes to profiles, and design details on all fireplaces, beams, shelves, and components.
